MARCH 2013

GOODBYE GREENFIELDS - HELLO TRAFFIC

Years ago, when one built up area began to merge into another, it was called 'Urban Sprawl'. Now planners prefer the term 'Sustainable Urban Extensions' and one of these SUE's is planned on the remaining open space around Collingtree and East Hunsbury.

During the town expansion of the 1970's, the Northampton Development Corporation (NDC) drew up a Master Plan for what was then called the Southern District. This mapped out what is now East and West Hunsbury and a road network feeding into Rowtree Road was built to handle the traffic expected from the new houses, schools and shops.

The NDC also decided that the area, around Wootton Brook and up to the M1, was unsuitable for building because of noise, flood risk and unstable land. This remained as open farmland or, as at West Hunsbury, landscaped parkland. Later, Collingtree Park, an International standard Golf Course with a limited number of low density houses was approved.

When the NDC was wound up in 1985, Northampton Borough Council continued with a similar planning approach and in 1997 the Northampton Local Plan noted that:

"There is generally no urban "sprawl" into the surrounding open countryside which is unusual for a town of the size of Northampton. It provides a real advantage in terms of identity for the town".

Over the years the area has not stood still. Collingtree Parish has doubled in size and Hunsbury and Wootton have grown along with the huge traffic increases on the M1, A45 and Junction 15.

Despite this planning history, the West Northamptonshire Joint Planning Committee (WNJPC) – a combination of councils from Northampton, Daventry and South Northants - is now promoting another expansion plan build over 40,000 houses on several 'Sustainable Urban Extensions' on mainly greenfield sites around Northampton.

If approved, SUE No 5 will allow 1000 houses (up to 40% 'affordable') on land bordering Wootton Brook and extending from the edge of Collingtree Village and through East Hunsbury almost to the Towcester Road (A43).

During the public consultation on this site there were 189 responses of which 185 raised concerns over flood risk, traffic congestion on Rowtree Road, landslip and air pollution.

In spite of these objections, the WNJPC has now sent its proposals to the government and there will be a full Public Examination before a Planning Inspector, starting in April.

Local Parish Councils, County and Borough councillors, local residents and the Member of Parliament for the area, have all argued against the inclusion of SUE No 5, but have also said that if it is approved by the Inspector, there should be no access to it from Rowtree Road or from Collingtree village. An alternative scheme has been suggested.

But, even before the Inspector has begun his work, Developer Bovis Homes Ltd has announced they are to make a Planning Application for 1,000 houses on the SUE No 5 site, with access from Rowtree Road and Windingbrook Lane.

Supporters argue that with a rising population and yet more immigration to come from eastern Europe, there is a severe housing shortage and more must be built.

Others point out that the real shortage is for low cost housing for first time buyers, close to central services and transport links and that Northampton town centre has many brown field sites in need of regeneration.

It will be for the Planning Inspector and then Northampton Borough Council to decide if the development of this Greenfield site will go ahead.

Friends of St Columba's

The third AGM and Social Evening of the Friends will be held at the Village Room at 7.30pm on Tuesday 9th April.

All original Foundation Members have been invited to hear about how the funds raise have been spent on the church building and grounds and meet friends over refreshments and a glass of wine. Also invited this year is anyone who is interested finding out more about the work of the Friends Group and the events planned for the coming year.

To join the group only costs £5 per person (or £10 per household) and every contribution helps to maintain the fabric and structure of the ancient village church. There is a Coach Trip to Winchester planned for April 20th (see back page) and the aim is to hold the traditional Village Fete once again this year—but with a difference. The date fixed is Saturday 13th July - so watch out for details.

To join the friends or find out more just call any of the following Andy 765742, Pam 674999, Rod 769407 - or simply come along at 7.30 pm on April 9th.

Planning Matters (Park & Ride) No further news about the Park & Ride proposal or the tidying up of the lay-by on the A45 near the Collingtree turn.

Planning Matters (Golf Course development) Parishioners should now have received a leaflet issued by Bovis Homes about dates for viewing their ideas. A survey of opinion put together by Collingtree PC working with Wootton & Hunsbury PC and HCRA should also be arriving at your homes soon. Please fill this in and return it. Responses to this and any other personal responses will count separately in the planning process, whereas any petition is treated as one response. Parishioners were promised a Public Meeting when any planning application was made. The next planned meeting of the Parish Council on 13th March may prove too early to become a Public Meeting as a formal planning application has not yet been submitted. Therefore, the Village Room has been reserved for 10th April in addition to the Annual Parish Meeting scheduled for 17th April.

Please watch for further announcements in this Newsletter and in the notice-boards.

Playing Field To facilitate some improvements to houses in Tom's Close, two workers cabins will be placed temporarily inside the triangle area of the playing field.

Road signs Some of you may have noticed that unlike other villages, our road signs and other information signs are currently spotless and a credit to the community. This is thanks to Charlie Beaton who has been undertaking community work suggested by the PC as part of his Duke of Edinburgh Awards Scheme tasks. The Armco at the entrance to the playing field has also been painted. Our thanks to him for a grand job.

The minutes of all meetings are placed in notice-boards and email versions can be obtained from the Clerk

Please make any contact with the Parish Council through the Clerk (see above)

The next meeting will be on 13th March at 7.30pm in Collingtree Village Room.
